Testpage wall clock

The testpage clock from Nextime is modern clock with a characteristic theme: the testpage present on TV screens that many will remember staring at as a child! The clock has the inscription "one moment please..." If you are interested in receiving the clock in another language, please contact us. The testpage clock would make an attractive gift, and gift packaging is available as extra. Buy online from our store - you can search for the product code on our store or find in the wall clocks sections using the left hand menu.
